Mom voices disappointment

GRANITE CITY — Tammie Robertson said Wednesday she was "disappointed" with reactions some parents had to the portable classroom plan.

The portable classroom at the new Logan School was set up for her son, Jason, 7, who has the AIDS virus. The classroom, which looks like a mobile home, is an alternative to having the boy in school, she said. But some parents objected to the boy being served by the nearby Prather Elementary School principal and nurse.

"I tried to do it their way. I took him out of school voluntarily," Tammie Robertson said. "You can't catch AIDS from sharing the same principal."

In Belleville, the mother of an AIDS victim went to the American Civil Liberties Union to get her son into Belleville Grade School District 118. The district is being sued.

virus, will not involve Prather Elementary School faculty or staff, Logan is next to Prather.

The District 9 School Board voted Tuesday to staff the classroom with a teacher, a social worker, a nurse and a custodian, said Superintendent Gib Walmsley. The vote was taken following an executive session that lasted more than two hours.

"None of the Prather staff will be needed or used to implement the appropriate educational plan for this program," Walmsley said.

Staff will be contractually hired from outside the district, with the exception of the special education director and his assistant, Walmsley said.

Two parents, whose children attend Prather, spoke against Prather staff working with Jason Robertson.

Joy Bohnenstiel said there are approximately 750 students at Prather and the school's staff, including the nurse and principal, are overworked. She said parents were upset when they heard that Principal Michael Loftus would oversee the classroom.

Nell Martinez said she doesn't understand why the Prather staff would have any part in the classroom.

"With all my heart, I support this classroom," Martinez told Jason's mother, Tammie Robertson, outside the board room. "I understand your tears."

Tammie Robertson said. "I disa-

Variance for apartments turned down

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — There will be no variance granted to a controversial set of apartments at 27th and Adams streets.

The City Council accepted a recommendation on Tuesday by the Zoning Board of Appeals denying a variance request by apartment owner Rocky White of St. Louis.

The council's action will likely result in a lawsuit by White against the city, said Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins, who sent all aldermen a letter last week on circumstances surrounding the apartments.

Hopkins' letter, labeled "confidential," indicated that Hopkins expected the aldermen to discuss the issue on Tuesday. Hopkins was at Tuesday's council meeting.

But the aldermen voted not to exclude White's request from other ZBA recommendations. Excluding the request would have opened the apartment issue and Hopkins' legal opinions for discussion.

The ZBA's recommendation of the apartments was accepted, with other ZBA recommendations. The council often acts on ZBA and Plan Commission recommendations without separating individual items.

The apartments have been at the center of a dispute in which several aldermen claim that Hopkins failed to enforce the city's zoning laws and building codes at the apartments when the newly constructed apartments were rented in February without an occupancy permit.

The council passed a resolution several weeks ago that ordered Hopkins to begin legal proceedings against White. Hopkins refused and recommended to White that White seek a variance with the board of appeals.

Such a variance would allow White not to conform to a zoning law that requires parking lots for apartments to have separate entrances from public rights-of-way. White's apartments are on an alley as an entrance and nearby residents have complained that the alley is too narrow to be used as a parking lot entrance.

They also claim the apartments do not have adequate drainage as called for in the original plans for the two-four unit buildings.

White has said he would file a lawsuit against the city if the city did not grant him a variance.

His attorney, Martin Zucker, told the ZBA that White would sue the city if the variance was not granted.

White has said the city has never made it clear to him what was expected of the apartments.

In his letter, Hopkins presented five points that were negative to the city's position if White sued the city.

"I urge the City Council to give proper consideration to the variance petition," Hopkins said.

Though Hopkins did not specifically recommend that the council grant the variance, he called the city's zoning law "dubious" in the apartment case.

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Partney, whose ward encompasses the apartments, questioned why Hopkins would write a special letter on the matter when other petitioners have been turned down for a variance and have threatened to sue the city.

Hopkins could not be reached for comment on Wednesday.

Candidates tell their views on handling AIDS issue

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The idea of placing a student with the AIDS virus in a District 9 classroom drew differing views from school board candidates.

Jason Robertson, 7, who has the virus, will be taught alone in a portable classroom at the new Logan Elementary School, located next to Prather Elementary School.

Robert Douglas said teaching Jason in a portable classroom, instead of a regular one, would prevent panic.

"I think the portable classroom, for the time being, is the best," Douglas said.

"Children with AIDS deserve a free and appropriate education as deemed by law," said Roy Koberna. "A committee to establish a regional school for these students needs to be appointed from school districts throughout the area."

Debbie Holt-Wilkerson said that each student's case would have to be examined before determining how the board should react.

Many aspects, such as protection for faculty, staff and other students, would have to be taken into consideration before placing someone with AIDS into a classroom, said Mack Johnson. Availability of a nurse would be essential, he said, in case the victim was injured in class or on a playground.

"I think myself or any board member has got to try to make a decision using information provided by the experts and not let emotions get involved," Johnson said.

Rose Schwager said she

Committeemen offered funds by school board candidates

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Nameoki Township precinct committeemen were offered funds from Kelly Hogan's campaign to hire workers. Hogan seeks re-election to the District 9 Board of Education.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs Sr. said he was told by a Hogan campaign worker that money would be available if the committeemen wanted to hire workers "to get out the vote" for Hogan. Briggs declined to identify the campaign worker.

"It was asked, 'How much money do you need,' said Helen Hawkins. Nameoki 4th Precinct committeemen. Amounts of $125 and $150 were named by some of the committeemen, Hawkins said.

"The money wasn't offered directly to the committeemen and it would be considered unethical for them to take it," Briggs said.

"I've never known of a committeemen in this township to take money for himself," Briggs said.

"The practice of providing committeemen money to hire workers isn't illegal and has been done in past elections, Briggs said.

Change sought in election of county board chairman

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — A new method of selecting the Madison County Board chairman could result from what is called a bipartisan election drive.

The chairman is elected by a majority vote of the 29-member board. The petitions call for the chairman to be elected countywide, and this would give the chairman veto power over board decisions.

Bob Barton, a Republican from Granite City, said Tuesday that petitions are circulating to put the issue on the March primary ballot. He lashed out at the current system of selecting the chairman.

"I think the people are fed up with a dictatorial form of government," Barton said. "Nepotism, cronyism, the good-old-boy club — it's prevailed in the county. The county executive (under the proposed system) will have the power to veto. He will be elected by the people, not the politicians on the County Board."

Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, a Democrat from Granite City, said Tuesday he would run for the office if the election system changes, but he does not think it should change.

"I personally feel that the people in Madison County are better represented with a chairman of the board picked by board members," he said.

The board selection makes the chairman closer to the board than he would be if selected by the public, Hagnauer said.

Petitions are circulating throughout the county, Barton said. The Republican Central Committee voted recently to support the effort, he said.

Hagnauer and Barton said there are Democrats who support the proposed change in the system.

Local anti-rate group sends state message

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Spurred to action by high summer electric rates, a group of Quad City residents went to Springfield last week to deliver thousands of anti-rate petitions to state officials.

Nameoki Township resident Helen Hawkins said petitions with about 50,000 signatures, many from local residents, were given to several state offices. The group also spoke to officials and to a representative of Gov. James Thompson, Hawkins said.

"It was a very good meeting. They rolled out the red carpet. They were impressed with what we did," Hawkins said.

The group, called People Opposing Wild Electricity Rates (POWER) Committee, was represented by Hawkins, Granite City residents Larry Martin and William Zinn and Nameoki Township resident Rella Knapp. They presented copies of the petitions to the offices of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Sen. Sam

Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, the governor and Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City.

Four sets of the petitions were put in boxes and stacked in the state offices, Hawkins said.

The signatures were gathered in response to a summer electrical rate increase of 40 percent by Illinois Power. The increase sparked an outcry by many residents.

Martin began a local petition drive and Zinn was involved in a statewide drive of the American Association of Retired Persons. The two eventually combined their area petitions.

Hawkins said she felt that the group accomplished its goal of making state officials aware of Quad City residents' opposition to increases of that size.

The petitions called for a rollback of the most recent increase and opposition to future increases.

Hawkins said some petitions had not yet been turned in and people holding petitions can turn them in at the Granite City Township office.

Council raising money for center

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Council of Seniors has started a building fund and will use newspaper recycling as a main fund-raising source, said Gertrude Boskay, the council's vice president.

Boskay wants Granite City residents to bring newspapers to the paper recycling trailer at the Schmucks Market parking lot on Nameoki Road. Proceeds will be used to construct or operate a center.

"You can bring the newspapers in all day long," she said. She said the council is also collecting aluminum cans. The council has so far collected about $700.

"We're starting on a very small scale," Boskay said. She said the council will accept money from donations, special projects and grants.

A center is needed because the Granite City Township Building, which seniors use for daily meals, does not serve the needs of area seniors, Boskay said.

Council President Gertrude Boskay recently asked the City Council to support the center.

Barkley said the township building is mainly used for government offices and the senior council cannot depend on scheduling activities there.

"My goal is full of senior center crafts. We need our own building. We need your help," Barkley said.

The council sent her request to the Finance Committee.

The senior council has asked the District Board of Education to consider allowing seniors to use the empty Logan grade school on West 24th Street, Boskay said. She said the board has not acted on the request.

Steel shipments best since 1981

PITTSBURGH — National Steel Corp. has reported net income of $12.4 million in the third quarter of 1987, compared to a net loss of $18.6 million in the third quarter of 1986.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30, National Steel earned net income of $25.2 million, compared to a net loss of $82.6 million in the first nine months of 1986.

National Steel owns Granite City Steel, Great Lakes Steel and Midwest Steel. Net sales for the third quarter and first nine months of 1987 were $622.8 million and $1.8 billion, compared to $531.3 million and $1.5 billion for the same periods in 1986.

Steel shipments in the third quarter and first nine months of 1987 totaled 1,260,000 and 3,613,000 tons, compared to 1,183,000 and 3,311,000 tons in the respective 1986 periods.

Shipments for the third quarter were up 8.3 percent over the same period last year and both the third quarter and year-to-date shipments reached their highest levels in the past six years.

Steel production was 1,281,000 tons in the third quarter and 3,819,000 tons for the first nine months of 1987, compared to 1,264,000 and 3,720,000 tons in 1986.

—Howard M. Love, National Steel chairman

Raw steel production for the first nine months of 1987 also reached its highest level in the past six months.

National Steel's chairman and chief executive officer, Howard M. "Pete" Love, former Granite City Steel president, commented, "The substantial improvement in National's third quarter performance over that of a year ago is partly the result of vigorous market demand."

"Prices have continued to improve and the combination of voluntary trade restraints and the lower value of the dollar have lessened competition from imports."

"However, the improved results also reflect the company's steady improvements in many key areas of operating performance, including product quality, employee productivity, energy consumption and yield.

"While significant progress has been made in many areas, there is still considerable room for improvement, particularly in the area of unscheduled production outages," Love continued.

"We were hurt early in the third quarter by an outage at the Great Lakes Division which contributed to some mid-summer shipping problems."

Looking ahead at the near term, Love called the outlook for the fourth quarter favorable.

He reported that National's order book is filled through the end of the year and that there are signs of strong customer demand well into the first quarter of 1988.

In July, Toyota Motor Corp. announced that National Steel had been selected as a major supplier at its new plant being constructed near Georgetown, Ky.

The selection was the culmination of an 18-month evaluation which involved extensive testing of steel samples, a study of National's operations and plant visits by Toyota officials.

In August, the corporation finalized its revolving two-year secured credit agreement with five Japanese and five U.S. banks together with a related letter of credit facility.

The agreement permits up to $125 million in borrowings and $85 million in letters of credit.

During September, the corporation executed a leveraged lease participation agreement with subsidiary of Philip Morris Credit Corp. covering up to $245 million in facility costs for a continuous casting and ladle metallurgy station to process liquid steel for its Great Lakes Division in Ecorse, Mich. Debt funding for the transaction is being provided by Mitsubishi Corp. and Marubeni Corp., both of Japan.

In the third quarter, the ladle metallurgy station was leased to a subsidiary of the corporation and was placed into service. The new 2.2 million ton continuous caster is also scheduled to be placed into service during the fourth quarter.

When the new caster becomes fully operational, National will produce 100 percent of its steel at the Great Lakes Division by the continuous cast method, and on a company-wide basis, over 90 percent of its steel will be continuously cast, a figure comparable with the most competitive steel companies in the world today, Love said.

Fewer jobless found in area

By David Rocks
P-R/J Washington bureau

WASHINGTON — Unemployment in the bi-state metropolitan area fell slightly from the rate of one year ago, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported in mid-October.

August civilian unemployment, not seasonally adjusted, fell to 6.6 percent from the August 1986 rate of 7.4 percent. In the same time period, the national rate dropped to 5.8 percent from 6.7 percent.

In Illinois, unemployment fell from 7.9 percent in August 1986 to 6.8 percent in August 1987, while in Missouri the rate remained steady at 6.0 percent.

At the same time, more people in both states were working. Employment in Illinois increased from 4,803,600 in August 1986 to 4,883,600 in August 1987. In Missouri, employment rose from 2,141,200 to 2,149,600 over the year.

Unemployment data for metropolitan areas and most states are not adjusted seasonally.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a person takes out automobile insurance in Illinois, the policy must provide for uninsured motorist coverage. The purpose of this coverage is to allow the driver to collect from his own insurance company if his car is struck by an uninsured vehicle. What happens, however, if the person's car is not actually struck by the uninsured vehicle but rather merely run off the road? Can the insured driver in this situation collect under his own policy?

Illinois law is clear that an insured driver cannot collect under the hit-and-run provision of his own uninsured motorist coverage unless there is "physical contact" between the unidentified driver and the insured driver. Thus where an unidentified vehicle forces the driver with insurance off the road, the insured cannot recover under his own policy for his injuries caused by his phantom vehicle.

This requirement of "physical contact" between the vehicles may seem rather harsh, in some cases, it may result in a person with severe injuries having no hope of recovery simply because his car was not actually struck by the unidentified vehicle. The reason for this requirement of contact is so that an injured person will not simply blame his injuries on a non-existent driver and thus collect under his own policy. By requiring physical contact between the vehicles, the Illinois Courts have reduced the potential for fraud in auto accident cases.

What happens, however, if the unidentified vehicle strikes a car in the road and throws it through the windshield of the insured driver, thereby causing an accident? Or what happens if the phantom vehicle throws a lug-nut off its wheel and causes the other driver to lose control of his car by hitting the vehicle? In both these instances, Illinois Courts have found "physical contact" and thus allowed coverage under the uninsured motorist provision of the victim's own policy.

The Courts have held that there need not be a direct physical touching between the hit and run vehicle and the insured automobile before the "physical contact" condition is satisfied. Indirect physical contact with any part of the unidentified vehicle will satisfy the "physical contact" requirement so as to allow the driver to collect under his own policy.

Finance, leadership discussed at BAC election forum

By Rick Arnold
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE Finance, leadership and representation were discussed during a candidates' forum Monday for 11 people vying for four vacancies on the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees.

Three vacancies are for six-year terms; the fourth seat is for an unexpired two-year term. Voters decide Tuesday who fills the vacancies.

Nine of the 11 candidates attended the forum, held in the college theater and sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Each candidate had five minutes for introductory remarks, in which they addressed the school's financial status, the relationship between BAC's board and administration, and a new state law that would divide the BAC district into seven areas of approximately equal population.

Although it was not an official discussion topic, many of the candidates' remarks concerned the performance of BAC Chancellor Bruce Wissore.

One of Wissore's strongest critics is Trustee Elizabeth Jenner, 55, Mascoutah, who seeks re-election. She is part of a slate of candidates which includes incumbent Trustee Frances Braswell, 70, Belleville; Ted Farmer, 46, Belleville; and Dan Wolford, 58, Belleville. Jenner, Braswell and Farmer seek six-year terms; Wolford seeks to fill an unexpired two-year term.

Shirley Highlander and Steven Trautt, both independent candidates, had prior commitments and could not attend. A prepared statement from Highlander was read by the moderator.

In response to an audience question about whether Wissore should be asked to resign and be bought out of his contract, Jenner said, "The demise of that person is not as important as getting control over him."

She said the college is obligated to Wissore for the two remaining years on his contract and added, "It is not an improper question but I believe a premature answer would be improper."

Wolford criticized Wissore for failure to take an active role in the school's financial problems. The board recently passed a $1.2 million deficit budget for the 1987-88 school year.

"We were down in Red Bud recently to observe the board discuss the college's five-year plan," Wolford said. "The chancellor had zero to offer in the five-year plan."

Candidate Avery Schermer said it is not Wissore's responsibility to prepare the budget but to ensure the budget is followed. Schermer, 64, Granite City, served on the board from 1979 to 1985.

"Everyone in the college had input in the budget," Schermer recalled, "from the custodial staff up through the echelons to the top administrators."

Schermer said the board passed surplus budgets during his tenure. He criticized the current board for not having the

John 3:16 "For God so loves the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

We may rest assured that God really loves us. Not because of what He said but because of what He did.

He gave his Son Jesus. Jesus gave his life. It was love that compelled them to do this for us.

It is true that you can give without love, but it is more true that you cannot love without giving.

Let us be motivated to give because we love. We have freely received, let us freely give.

THINKING HARD ABOUT SOFT CORNS

A soft corn usually develops as a result of a protruding bone between toes. Its name comes from the fact that wetness in the toe area keeps the skin of the corn soft. This slow growing type of corn may be misidentified at home as a fungus infection because of its location and texture. If ignored, the problem could complicate itself as a result of splitting, moist skin and infection. At this point, treatment by the podiatrist would be mandatory. A more prudent approach would be to have the podiatrist identify and appraise the condition before it becomes problematic. In some cases, a minor surgical procedure can remove the boney outcropping that leads to a soft corn.

The human foot is made up of 26 bones, 27 ligaments, and 19 muscles. Entrust your feet to the professional care of a podiatrist. With periodic examinations, your feet will continue to carry you through your daily activities, from standing and walking to running. Contact my office for quality family podiatric services. Corns, calluses, skin tumors, and fungus infections are treated and diabetic foot care is available. Office hours by appointment at 1930 State St., telephone 877-6026. Election Day is November 3 and your vote counts!

Florence Woodward read a letter written by President Ronald Reagan to members of the DAR on the Bicentennial of the Constitution. ## CWU hears blood drive need

A worship service preceded the regular meeting of Church Women United on Oct. 20 at the Central Christian Church, with Lena Seitzer, president, as leader.

Before the business meeting, two representatives from the American Red Cross spoke about the need for a blood drive during the Christmas holidays, when there is more demand and little supply.

Joyce Schrader reported on a meeting with a state group on "Imperative — Women and Children in Poverty." The program is part of a five-year plan nationwide, and the Quad City chapter of CWU will participate. More information will be given about this subject at the World Community Day program Nov. 6 at the Salvation Army headquarters in Granite City. The theme for this celebration is "Sojourner for Justice," which concerns the homeless. The public is invited; the president said.

A musical program, featuring the Wilkerson Brothers with Adam Krock, will be given at 3 p.m. Nov. 8 at Madison Presbyterian Church. Proceeds from the concert will be sent to the Dwight Correctional Center for Women.

Seitzer also announced a CWU Christmas party will be held at the Central Christian Church on Dec. 11. It will be a potluck followed by a white elephant sale.

Proceeds will be sent to the local Project Help. Guests are invited.

The next regular meeting will be held at 12:30 p.m. Nov. 17.

Program on Columbus

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated Columbus Day at the home of Carolyn Walsh.

Nine members attended and enjoyed the cultural program presented by the hostess on "Christopher Columbus."

Columbus made four voyages in discovering America, the first in 1492, landing in January on San Salvador and the Bahamas, Walsh said.

In 1494, he landed on Cuba and the Haitian Islands, finding tobacco, which he kept as a trading commodity for himself. His third voyage brought him to Trinidad, in 1498, where he served as governor of the New World, the speaker said.

Sailing again in 1502, he added the Schullies Islands to his discoveries in May of 1503. Columbus' death at the age of 65 ended a career which started at age 14, Walsh said.

Program chairman Linda Koenig received a prize for providing a picture of the original ship, the U.S. Constitution.

The meeting was opened by President Carol Cathey and reports were read by Secretary Betty Beck, secretary.

Koenig gave the treasurer's report and reviewed papers from the International for the Order of the Rose. Eligible members will be conferred in November.

She also reported a transfer member, Deborah Septer, is affiliated with Theta Iota Chapter, and a card was sent to member B.J. Jones' husband, C.J., who was hospitalized.

The president said four members would attend the Missouri State Convention in St. Louis later in the month and the ways and means committee will sponsor a project table at the Saturday session.

The Bridges of Friendship theme was displayed and drawings were won by Vickie Barth and Marilyn Lumpkins. The Friendship Basket was passed from Betty Beck to Carolyn Walsh to Barbara Hente.

The hostess served refreshments and offered to host the next meeting with pledge, Cheryl Smith, volunteering to assist with the refreshments.

Market drop has little effect on pensions, counselors say

By Gail Stobaugh
Staff affiliate

The 500-point drop in the stock market has had little effect on most people's pension funds, but the only way to be sure is to ask, according to St. Louis County investment counselors say.

Pension plans based on guaranteed investments, such as government and municipal bonds, didn't suffer, said Larry Woodridge, president of Strategic Pension Services in Clayton.

"The base of pension plans is still very strong," he said. "The majority of plans have more of a solid foundation, more guaranteed annuities."

But some pension plans rely more on the stock market.

"With some 401-K plans, people are allowed to direct their investments," Woodridge said. If those people put their investments in stocks, that were sold at low prices Monday (Oct. 19), they're in trouble," he said.

"People panicked out on Monday," said Boyd Atchery, executive vice president of Financial Planning Consultants in Chesterfield. "But for the most part, our clients have maintained a steady posture. Assuming most dollars were already invested in solid stocks, I think they'll be very secure."

Most pension funds, especially those of large corporations, are spread out among different types of investments.

"Southwestern Bell employees are at no risk as a result of the downturn," said Mickey Sandlin, manager of new relations for Southwestern Bell Corp. "The pension is very conservatively managed."

How conservative investments should be depends partly on age, Woodridge said. People near retirement should be conservative.

"We start switching to guaranteed annuities when a person is about five years from retirement," he said.

For younger people's pension plans, the stock market is good place to put at least a part of the money.

"The market has always outperformed interest rates," Woodridge said.

Chuck Copeland, a partner in financial plans and investments in Kirkwood, said he is moving most of his clients' money back into the market because the recent drop devalued some stocks.

"We feel with the devaluation that has taken place, it's a good time," Copeland said. "When you can buy blue chip stocks at a 40 percent discount from a week ago, you do it."

Before the downfall Copeland limited his older clients' stock investment to about 5 percent of their money, but now he's investing more, he said.

"We're now moving that up to 50 to 60 percent," Copeland said. "We just think the opportunity is too inviting to pass up."

"We had moved almost all of our customers out of the stock market. Now we're moving back. We may commit as much as 80 to 90 percent of younger clients to stocks."

Copeland said while he didn't expect such a drastic fall in the market, he did expect some down movement. That's why he pulled clients' money out of stocks in July.

"In August, it looked like we were premature," Copeland said. Still, he's not worried about the future.

"We're going to hear from a lot of gloom and doomers that we're headed for a big recession," he said. "What's happening in the economy just doesn't show that. We just can't see that in the cards. We have a bright, optimistic attitude."

Rising stock prices late last week show others share the optimism.

"You've got to be able to weather the storm," Woodridge said.

And most pension plans are designed to do that, he said.

Q. I've heard it is a good idea for an individual to check his personal earnings record with the Social Security Administration. I'm wondering now how often such a check should be requested, or is once sufficient?

A. It is a very good idea to make such a check periodically, say about every three years. It does happen that people lose benefits by failing to check their records on a regular basis. There are opportunities for errors to be made. For example, an employer may have put the wrong name or the wrong Social Security number on the records he submits to the government. Those earnings, then are never posted into the correct account. Social Security reports that it has about $88 billion in unclaimed earnings records, dating back as far as 1937. Your local Social Security office will be happy to supply you with the proper forms to request a check, and assist you in filling them out and mailing them.

The public wields power

With each breath from birth to eternity we protest, praise and put our thoughts before our peers, but the spoken word is powerless until translated into action.

Much was voiced in anger and penned in outrage about decisions of the District 9 Board of Education. The board's controversial hirings, its shameful treatment of former Superintendent Max Redmond, and lethargy in reacting to requests for policy changes have left the district wounded. But expressing opinions was all that could be done, until now.

Together with candidates Mack Johnson, Roy Koberna, Paul Ray, and Debbie Holt-Vicker, you can translate your opinions into action. Your vote for them on Nov. 3 can get District 9 off the mud road of politics.

The power placed in your hands Nov. 3 is awesome. It's the power to determine the future of education in District 9. The power to make the changes that reflect your opinions is in your act of voting. Your power is your vote. Your vote.

Vote, you youth who freshly recall the board's unevenly administered policies. Vote, you parents who've seen friends passed over for jobs and remember the embarrassment caused when Dewey Melton asked Redmond to resign.

Vote, you grandparents who've seen it all—your taxes wasted on a system that bypasses those most qualified to teach your grandchildren, subjected to rigid policies that punish them for missing graduation practice even when ill, who've seen the district become a plume of politicians.

No matter how you think, how angered you are with the way District 9 is operated, unless you put your thoughts into action on Nov. 3, you'll have no one to blame but yourselves Nov. 4.

Dear sir:

I oppose the governor's cuts to the current education budget. These funds are vital to the future of our state; our children. I would appreciate your support in restoring the $113 million cut by the governor.

YOUR CONSTITUENT

Already serving the public

District 9 School Board candidate Paul Johnson is already working to remedy the $887,002 cut in the district's education fund.

He provided a form (above) that you can sign to ask legislators, Rep. Sam Wolf and Sen. Sam Vadalabene, to oppose the cut. He urges voters to clip the coupon and drop it off at the Press-Record newsroom—he'll mail it, or mail it yourself.

Johnson's dedication to District 9, evident in this gesture to fight the education fund cut and in his organizing effort to pass the school bond issue in 1985, and in his defense of former Superintendent Max Redmond—all done while holding no public office—show he'll be a dedicated public servant when elected Nov. 3 by you.

Good BAC candidates vs. radicals

As a final reminder prior to the Belleville Area College election on Tuesday, Nov. 3, we consider it important to the entire college district to elect to the Board of Trustees the four Project Excel candidates. They are:

—Avery Schermer of Granite City. His successful business and college experience can be an immense asset to the BAC board, on which he has served previously with high distinction. He understands the correct relationship between those governing and operating the big district. He could help the board set sensible goals and priorities.

—Robert G. Eden of Cahokia, a teacher.

Catherine "Kay" Bennett of Belleville, an elementary school administrator.

Wyatt Rawlings III of Belleville, an accountant.

As we have said previously, the college board's misguided, zigzag path during the past two years has been costly and damaging, and must not continue. The Belleville, Granite City and Red Bud regions can be badly hurt by such capricious, unsound policies and actions. In contrast, the Project Excel candidates would chart the right course.

Their proposals include convening well-marketed courses that bolster enrollment. This would go a long way toward solving the present, board-created financial crisis.

It is hard to predict what would happen if the competing slate prevails, but it could be ugly. Many radical viewpoints have been voiced in the election campaign and before. A combination of new radical members and the faction already on the board could set the district back many years.

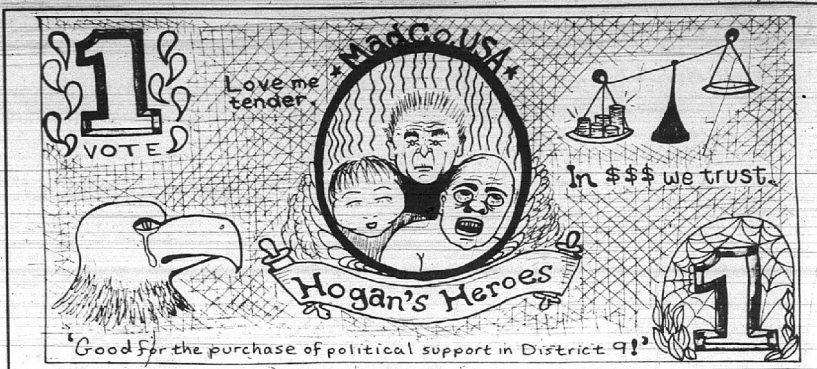

As an example of the absurd attitudes held by some on the board, the words "chiseled in Granite" have been heard more than once. This insulting phrase shows deep resentment of the northern area of the district served by the Granite City Campus.

This is bad enough, but such a confused, destructive "platform" would be increasingly harmful to people throughout the BAC district, including the Belleville and Red Bud campuses.

When the local community was deciding which district to join years ago, the best choice seemed obvious. BAC was efficiently providing high-quality instruction, aided by a board that had a no-ego, unselfish, farsighted approach.

But since 1985, the board has botched it. With even less capable persons added, the board could soon push us all from the frying pan into the fire.

We strongly recommend electing Schermer, Rawlings, Bennett and Eden.

Koberna genuinely concerned

To the editor:

Shortly before the deadline to file as a candidate for our school board, Roy Koberna told me he was considering running for a four-year term. I could see that he was serious, and anxious to make a commitment. I told him I would help in any way I could.

This offer of help was not from a seasoned politician, or one of considerable clout, but from a friend and fellow politician who, like Roy, had never been involved in a political race, had never even had a political sign on our front lawn.

Soon after Roy filed as a candidate, others like myself, who knew Roy and understood how valuable his presence on our school board could be, also volunteered to help. What was taking place was something we had all heard about, but never actively participated in before, a "grassroot campaign."

Persons who are normally perceived at the lower level of the political spectrum, the Voters, are actively working to support a candidate who they truly believe can serve their interests and make a good system better. Roy Koberna does believe he can make our school system better.

Granite City School District 9 was once considered one of the best in Illinois. Roy is confident that, with a board of reasonable people and genuine concern for the district's students and parents, we can again be considered a model school district.

Before entering the polls on Nov. 3, study the qualifications of all those seeking to represent your children and your interests in our schools. There are many to choose from, and some are truly qualified. Roy Koberna is willing to help and is very qualified to do the job. He needs you, the voter, to give him the opportunity.

Laments loss of tree from road

To the editor:

Fall is here again, with all its beautiful colors, but unfortunately Granite City is not as attractive in this respect as it once was.

Surely one of the most breathtaking fall displays of color in our town is no more, for apparently it was imperative that a gift of nature, a mature sweet gum tree, be cut down to make way for the new branch library.

The color this tree gave us, a bright orange-gold, was a delight to myself and those who frequented Johnson Road.

As site preparation began for the branch library, the future of this tree immediately came to mind. Since the tree was near the sidewalk and the site quite large, I quickly dismissed any thought that removal would be necessary.

Imagine the shock a few days later when the tree was cut down.

As I look at the site today and try to remember where the tree was located, I doubt removal was necessary—probably just convenient.

Surely the architects involved could have accommodated the presence of this tree. It would have been a lovely adornment to the building.

There is a lesson to be learned here somewhere. For myself, I believe that a letter or two like this last spring would have called attention to that tree and possibly have saved it.

Now all we have is a memory and younger folks won't even have that.

Wants Bowler elected to board

To the editor:

On Nov. 3 our son, Paul Ray, is seeking a seat on the Granite City School Board. Agnes and I are asking for your support for Paul on that day. As you are probably aware, mine and Ag's health is not up to par. If it were, we would be asking you personally, by either coming to your home, or telephoning you personally. However that is not possible.

Paul Ray taught in our school system for almost six years, and one thing he always believed in was that every student had a special talent, and if you found that talent, the individual student would be able to learn.

Please consider Paul Ray election day. We truly believe he has the interest of the students and the taxpayers as his number one priority.

ROGER AND AGNES BOWLER

Objects to newspaper's position

To the editor:

I have taken note of the editorials (unsigned) in the last two Thursday Press-Records. I think they are a very low form of journalism.

If you want to endorse a candidate for public office, then that is acceptable. It is quite another thing to shred the reputations of other candidates.

I object to a young man that doesn't live in Granite City trying to tell me how to vote.

I happen to think that Kelly Hogan and JoAnn Macios are fine public servants, and urge the voters of Granite City to return them to their jobs on the school board. A lifelong resident:

Do animals have rights like humans?

The Constitution of the United States—Amendment Eight—states: "Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted."

Understand, in the 1780s—just 200 years ago—in the United States, punishment for crimes might include "quartering" or "burning at the stake."

Thus the Eighth Amendment provision against "cruel and unusual punishment."

Then, as recently as Robinson versus California in 1961, the constitutional guarantee against cruel and unusual punishment was made applicable at the state as well as the federal level.

Scholars continue to debate whether the electric chair and the gas chamber constitute "cruel and unusual punishment," though the most recent Supreme Court opinion on that subject decrees those punishments to be legal.

But no court, federal, state or local, would ever try to tar and feather anybody anymore.

No individual, however hideous his crime, can ever be purposely tortured to death.

The Constitution will not allow it. I have been rereading the Eighth Amendment, and scores of opinions relating to it. Nowhere do I find that our Constitution's prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment is limited to people.

I have talked to enough Law School deans to recognize that they consider the fact to be "self-evident" that the law applies only to people.

Yes, the Supreme Court has decreed that not even the human fetus falls into that category.

Any court-tested case I can find seeking constitutional rights for animals has been treated as frivolous.

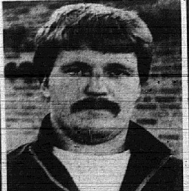

When a Georgia man sought in a federal court to claim exemption from the leash law for his talking dog, the judge dismissed the case out of hand, saying the complainant did not have standing in the court because the dog was capable of speaking for itself.

If there is to be further enlightenment, should it not prohibit all inflicted suffering?

Time for a change on school board?

With the District 9 School Board election scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 3, do you think it is time for a change in the makeup of the board or do you think the present members have been serving the taxpayers conscientiously in handling the district's business?

John Miller,
Granite City

"I definitely think it's time for a change. One thing I'm glad to see, so far, is that the new candidates are interested in removing the politics and supposed back door methods they (the current board members) seem to have. I hope they hold to their statements."

Rich Schaus,
Granite City

"It's probably time for a change. I think they need to restructure the hiring procedures. Maybe it's time to bring in a few new members and get rid of a few of the old ones."

James Costoff,
Granite City

"Change is good. Some members have been on the board too long. There should be a limit on how long a person can serve on a board."

Lay off scalpers like us; ...yeah, that's the ticket

Sure, we're still smarting from Metrodome-oid, but it's not too early to start thinking how to showcase our fair Cowtown the next time the national spotlight area here into the hinterlands from the Left and Least coasts.

Restaurants, check. Hotel space, check. Arch, check. Tickets? Forget it.

If anything marks us as a boring Midwest Cowtown, it's our moralistic attitude toward reselling sports tickets. There is a St. Louis ordinance that promises big trouble to those who try.

This is America. Fortunes are made on buy low, sell high. It's legal and respectable at the brokerage houses, in the real estate game, everywhere in business.

Those who try it with sports tickets are saddled with a nasty name — scalper — and made to feel unclear, like money-changers being driven out of the temple.

This shouldn't be, at least not in connection with the national pastime. Do you think the money-changers would have been dispatched so quickly if they'd been offering four boxes back of third?

I have $8 worth of experience with this dumb law. In July, at a sold-out Cardinals game against the Mets, I wound up with two extra general admission tickets. My goal was not to bulk some kid out of his piggy-bank life savings. I just wanted my $8 back so I could cover a hot dog and a beer.

Selling the extras seemed not only logical, but public-spirited. There were no tickets available at the windows. By buying mine, two people would be able to see the game who otherwise couldn't get in.

It might even make the difference in the holy quest for 3 million fans!

Feeling very public-minded, I timidly began waving my two purple tickets outside a Busch Stadium gate. My first nibble was from a cop who zoomed up on a golf cart.

He wore mirror sunglasses and not a trace of a smile. "You can't resell tickets, sir," he said.

"How about if I go across the street?" I countered. "I can't tell you that," he said in a monotone reminiscent of Jack Webb. "It's illegal to resell tickets."

He rode off, but the commotion attracted the attention of several ticketless fans. Happy ending.

Allowing tickets to be resold would make more seats available and would drive the price down.

Sellers now have to mark up seats to include the cost of hotel-room offices and bail. Without the ban, they could deal openly on the street, without shame or fear of incarceration.

Innocent people like me who have inconsiderate out-of-town friends — wouldn't get burned with extra tickets. Little Abby and John will get in to see a game now and then that they would have missed because their silly dad forgot to buy seats.

Finally, repeal of the law would provide, on occasion, one of life's most pleasurable sights. Is there anything better than walking past a ticket scalper who has overbought or overestimated the public's interest in a game?

Yes, there is one thing better. It's buying a ticket from him at half, or a quarter, of its face value. Now that's entertainment.

citizens served by the respective centers will be formed to address the needs of the centers.

The candidates feel that this information must be given with-est possible attention, so that the accuracy and reliability of their positions can be known by voters prior to the election Nov. 3.

Candidates clarify positions on issues

To the editor:

Several misconceptions are being circulated throughout the Madison and Randolph counties areas concerning the positions of Elizabeth Jenner, George "Red" Farmer, Frances Postel Braswell and Dan Wofford, all of whom are candidates for the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees.

The candidates would like to clarify their position on three areas:

A. Support for the Granite City and Red Bud Centers. The candidates have strongly supported the establishment of education centers designed to serve the needs of the local taxpayers. In addition, the candidates pledge to improve and enhance the educational programs and physical facilities so that the centers can be as independent and equal as prudent management will allow.

B. Hiring Policies at the Granite City and Red Bud Centers. The candidates pledge that employee selection will be based foremost upon the highest qualifications and experience.

C. Establishment of Working Regional Advisory Committees. The candidates pledge that regional advisory committees made up of a cross-section of the citizens served by the respective centers will be formed to address the needs of the centers.

The candidates feel that this information must be given with-est possible attention, so that the accuracy and reliability of their positions can be known by voters prior to the election Nov. 3.

Scouts pledge to do their best. Even a group of elderly explorer scouts. Like many other elderly, handicapped people, they're doing a lot better now thanks to United Way supported organizations like the Waymakers.

Poverty-stricken, many nearly helpless, they're experiencing the pleasures of picnics, tours, holiday celebrations—even scouting! Simple things that we take for granted are only possible for them with dedicated help—including your gift through the United Way.

Simon urges voluntary curbs on TV violence

COLUMBIA, S.C. — U.S. Sen. Paul Simon has renewed his call for congressional action on legislation that would enable the television industry to attempt voluntary steps to curb TV violence.

Addressing an October conference on "Television Violence and the Family" sponsored by Presbyterian College, the South Carolina Christian Action Council and South Carolina Education Television, Simon said, "Violence has proven to be such a potent ratings-booster that few, in the industry want to risk backing away from it on their own. We need general recognition and joint action on the problem."

As part of a three-year project, Simon is "shepherding" through Congress his bill to encourage networks, cable operators, producers and other television industry members to cooperate in minimizing television violence by giving them limited exemption from antitrust laws which they could use to develop industry-written guidelines on TV violence.

The Simon bill has co-sponsorship across the political spectrum. It has passed the Senate once, and is nearing approval by a Senate subcommittee.

Watercolor nudes exhibited

An exhibit of 65 watercolors and drawings by Herbert Fink, Distinguished Professor of Art at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, will be in the University Center Gallery on Nov. 2-20 at SIUE.

The selection of Fink's works from 1970 to 1980 was organized and has been displayed at the Mitchell Museum, Mount Vernon. Through a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, it also is being seen at museums throughout the state until March 1989.

Fink specializes in nude and semi-nude female figure studies which "flow with the natural ease of breathing." Mitchell Museum Guest Curator Marilyn Lauffer, who assembled the exhibit, says in its catalogue, "Fink came to SIUE in 1961 as professor of art and chairman of the art department. Later he was director of the School of Art and dean of the College of Communications and Fine Arts. He was the first art department member to be awarded 'Distinguished Professor' status."

He was born in Rhode Island and many critics have seen his work as in the tradition of such Eastern artists as Winslow Homer, Thomas Eakins, William Merritt Chase and John Singer Sargent, according to Charles Thomas Butler, executive director of the Mitchell Museum.

Fink received art training at the Carnegie Institute of Technology and Art Students League in New York, N.Y.

Eilerman presents award

Dr. James Whittico Jr. was presented with the Hospital Association of Metropolitan St. Louis' annual Health Care Leadership Award during the Association's Annual Dinner Meeting at the St. Louis Airport Marriott on Oct. 28.

Whittico was praised by Ted L. Eilerman, chairman of the association's board of directors, as "a recognized scholar, a compassionate physician, a civic-minded citizen, a model for the health care community and the entire metropolitan area."

The award has been presented annually by the association since 1972 to recognize outstanding leadership and dedication in furthering the interests of quality health care in the St. Louis community.

The award was one of four presented during the dinner meeting. The election of 1988 officers was also announced.

Fred L. Brown, president and chief executive officer, Christian Hospital-Northeast-Northwest, will succeed Eilerman, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, as chairman of the association board.

Doctors meet on malpractice risks

How can individual physicians minimize the risk of being named in a lawsuit?

Illinois physicians will gather in the Chicago area to explore these and other questions at the Illinois State Medical Society's upcoming all-member conference on Saturday, Nov. 7. The session begins at 8 a.m. at the Hyatt Oak Brook Hotel.

In addition to specialty loss prevention presentations, physicians will hear two experts on how to build public and policy-maker support for improving Illinois' malpractice climate.

Jurors wiser, quite a bit older after deciding Metro East trial

Better living through chemistry? Not for the chemical trial jurors who have just finished devoting a big chunk of their lives to their duty as citizens.

As reported by staff affiliate John Lenger, there were no real winners in the longest jury trial in U.S. history.

It ended at the St. Clair County Courthouse on Oct. 22 after a jury reached a verdict that split the difference between the two sides and satisfied neither," he wrote.

The Kenner vs. Monsanto trial began Feb. 22, 1984, lasted more than 3½ years and focused national attention on Metro East and its courts.

Here are some statistics: The case involved one teaspoonful of dioxin, a potential cause of cancer. The nine women and three men heard 182 witnesses, inspected 6,000 items of evidence, and tried to maintain their patience as more than 100,000 pages of testimony accumulated.

Jurors decided that the Monsanto Co. should pay $5 Sturgeon, Mo., people punitive damages of $16,250,000. The trial stemmed from a 1979 Sturgeon train wreck that spilled 22,000 gallons of wood-preserving chemicals containing a minute amount of dioxin.

Regional Roundup

By Bill Winter

The jurors found that only two of the 65 had suffered any real injury as a result of the wreck. Noting this lack of injuries, the chief attorney for Monsanto predicted the punitive damages will be overturned on appeal.

Lenger continued, "The company will appeal not only the punitive damages but also charges of $81,000 assessed against Monsanto by Circuit Judge Richard P. Goldenhersh. Goldenhersh said the trial cost St. Clair County taxpayers about $81,000, and ordered Monsanto to pay the county that amount," Lenger reported.

Rex Carr, attorney for the Sturgeon residents, estimated the appeals process could take — are you ready for this? — up to five more years.

Carr commented, "The jury said Monsanto was correct in its claim that nobody was injured by the dioxin, and it said we were correct in that Monsanto knew about the possible harmful effects for years and continued to produce dioxin."

He had sought $135 million for the plaintiffs — $35 million in actual damages and $100 million punitive.

As Lenger tells it, "Jurors said they didn't buy the claims of Sturgeon residents that exposure to dioxin had caused health problems ranging from acne to birth defects, but they felt Monsanto should be punished for not taking proper care in handling potentially hazardous chemicals."

"Frances Kenner and her son, William, were awarded $14,500 each for property damage resulting from the wreck. The other 63 residents each received a token award of $1, which some jurors jokingly said was for them to 'buy aspirin'."

"One juror, Cathy Melton of Belleville, described the $14,500 million awarded as a fine."

"She said: 'I didn't believe the people were injured, except for having to put up with the smell for a few days. But if they (Monsanto) had tested that tank car it wouldn't have ever gone out, and no one would ever have had to serve jury duty. You have to look upon it as a fine.'"

"Melton would have liked the award to be lower, while juror Sue Tyler of Belleville had favored $45 million."

"Goldenhersh and the jurors celebrated after the verdict was announced like kids let out after the world's longest school term. Most of them gathered at the Casa Gallardo restaurant in Fairview Heights to exchange addresses and phone numbers, and talk about future get-togethers."

"Jurors said that, after 3½ years, they are looking forward to getting on with their lives."

"For the 44 months of the trial, the jurors received $5 a day salary from the county plus 10 cents for every mile they had to drive to the courthouse."

Halloween is two days away, with many activities and attractions available in Metro East.

For those who would like to travel, Chicago is offering a Halloween bus tour that includes:

Al Capone's grave at Mount Carmel Cemetery in west suburban Hillside; the site on the city's North Side of the St. Valentine's Day massacre; and the ghost-ridden Resurrection Cemetery in south suburban Justice.

"At the same time that Illinois is pushing hard to be selected as the location for the Superconducting Super Collider, a less visible but also important high-tech project related to this goal is threatened with curtailment through a reduction in funding."

That is the opinion of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, which is concerned about the scheduled closing of the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy.

About the IMSA, the IMA said, "Described as one of the most advanced scientific projects anywhere in the world today, the $6 billion super collider is within Illinois' grasp."

"One of the considerations that helped bring this about was the promise of the new IMSA in Aurora, a three-year residential high school for the technologically and scientifically gifted."

"The assumption was that the academy would help assure a steady cadre of high-tech talent for scientific projects such as the collider. Now, however, as the SSC site selection sweepstakes enters the home stretch, the academy is about to run out of money."

"It needs another $3.5 million to keep open, but this is being denied to the institution by a recent amendatory veto. We call for overriding the veto."

Endorsement fixed, candidate alleges

Congressional candidate Mike Mansfield said Oct. 19 he never expected to receive endorsements from the "tightly-controlled Democratic Central Committees in St. Clair and Madison counties," and isn't worried that last week both endorsed one of his opponents.

"This doesn't change my campaign any," the 33-year-old chief-of-staff to Cong. Mel Price said. "In anything, this highlights what I've been saying all along: This election is about honesty and integrity. The way the endorsements were handled lacks both."

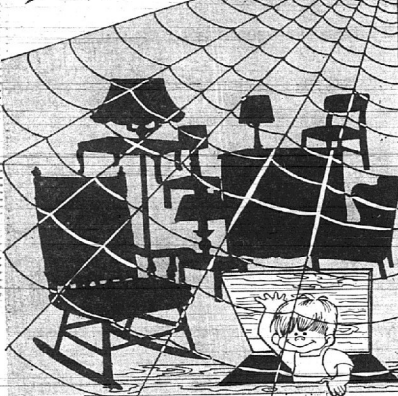

"Promises were made to get those endorsements, and I guarantee those promises weren't in the best interests of the people."

"I can remember Paul Simon didn't have the endorsement when he ran for state representative in 1954. It didn't stop him."

Tired Yates tries to avoid last place

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Ron Yates is tired and ready to relax. But there are still at least 48 more minutes of work.

It has been a long and relatively unsuccessful year for the football Warriors, who wind up their season with a 7:30 p.m. game on Friday at Memorial Stadium against Belleville East.

"I'm always ready for a break at this time of year," said Yates. "You put so much effort into working with so many kids that it's a long haul."

Yates said he was tired even towards the end of the 1986 season, which was full of success and excitement. A year ago today, the Warriors were preparing for the Lancers to clinch the Southwestern Conference championship. Now they prepare to play a game in which the winner will avoid last place.

"If you can win that last game, it helps," Yates said. "But we have had good practices this week with a few more sophomores in. They cause motivation for the seniors."

The Warriors are a bruised and battered group as they look to finish the year. Len Whiteside is definitely out, and Kevin Suttin will miss the game after receiving 15 stitches in his chin. Randy Odom has a broken wrist which leaves the running game in the hands of Jeff Kohler and Terry Stanley. Tight end/linebacker/place-kicker Kory Burton was added to the injury list yesterday with a cracked bone in his foot and will miss the game. "I won't stay with the running game too long if it's not working," Yates said. "Brian Dix and Kohler have shown they can catch the ball."

Yates is satisfied with the progress made by Wallace as a sophomore quarterback.

"He has thrown 12 interceptions, but that's about par for the course," he said. "Timmy Hogan threw 11 interceptions as a junior in eight games. But Joe is getting better each week and is very coachable. He is looking at films, and we will work with him during the off-season."

Yates knows Lancer coach Mike McGinnis will have his squad ready for the game. East is 1-3 in the conference and 2-6 overall, the same as the Warriors. Yates has beaten McGinnis in each of his first three years.

"I'm sure he will be after us," Yates said. "He's telling his players this is the year to get Granite City. It will probably be like the Alton game last week. It will be decided by a touchdown or a field goal and will come down the team with the most intensity."

NOTES: The Warriors defeated the Lancers 7-0 in 1984 and 7-0 in 1985. Last year, the Warriors trailed 10-7 at halftime on Halloween night. They threw only one pass in the second half — a 12-yard Hogan-to-Hogan touchdown — to clinch the SWC with a 14-10 win. The loss left East at 6-3 and they lost to East St. Louis in the first playoff game. In other SWC action, East St. Louis plays at Collinsville and Alton plays at Belleville West. Assuming the Flyers beat the Kahoks, the Maroon-Redbird game will be for second place. Collinsville did not play its game with Belleville Althoff last week. They were cancelled because of a wet field in Belleville on Saturday, then Kahok coach Bob Hollingshead didn't want to play on Monday with East St. Louis coming up four days later.

Golfers supply groceries for needy

Madison Armvets Post 204 held a golf tournament on Oct. 4 at Oakbrook Golf Course to benefit the Protestant Welfare Association. The association will distribute more than $700 worth of groceries that were collected for the needy.

As part of the entry fee, each golfer was asked to donate groceries to the post home. There were a total of 68 golfers who participated in the tournament which was called the 2nd Annual Potato Classic — Post 204 Commander Leon Ross encouraged all Armvets to participate. Any one wishing to contribute can contact Delores Games of the Welfare Association at 828-8770 or at 2032 Edison Ave. in Granite City.

Ross also said the post, located at 1711 Kennedy Drive in Madison, is actively pursuing new membership and welcomes anyone who served in the armed forces to join the Armvets. Call 876-9821.

FOOTBALL WEEKEND

Edited by Jack Farmer

Defense sparking Illinois

By Jim Woodcock
Journal Staff Writer

The celebration of college football homecomings reportedly began at the University of Illinois in 1910—the same season the Fighting Illini turned in a perfect 7-0 record. Unbeaten, untied and unscored upon.

Illinois' 78th homecoming happens Saturday when the Illini host Minnesota in a 1 p.m. contest at Memorial Stadium. And although the current team is not the powerhouse the 1910 squad was, there is at least one common thread between the two—a devilish defense.

Last Saturday at Michigan State, the Illinois defense again played well enough to warrant a victory for the team. Typical of the 1987 season, victory escaped the Illini. But Illinois gained widespread attention, dueling the Rose Bowl contending Spartans to a 14-14 tie in front of a ferocious homecoming crowd of 76,513 in East Lansing.

While the Illini once limped about under the direction three quarterbacks, the defense punished Michigan State. Heisman Trophy candidate Loren White scored on a 41-yard run, but earned only 67 yards on 13 carries. The Spartans couldn't manage a first down the entire third quarter when the game was tied 7-7.

Illini senior defensive end Scott Davis—who lost his starting role at the beginning of the season—saved the biggest defensive blow until the game's final play when he blocked John Langeloh's 28-yard field goal attempt.

The field goal would have kept Michigan State in a tie for first place with Indiana in the Big 10 race to the Rose Bowl. By virtue of the Hoosiers' 14-10 win last Saturday over Michigan, the Spartans' bid to spend New Year's Day in Pasadena was severely damaged.

Indiana was the first team this season to defeat Minnesota. The Golden Gophers (5-2 overall) and in third place in the Big 10 at 3-2 reacted poorly to the Indiana setback of two weeks ago by collapsing last Saturday at Ohio State, 42-9.

Illinois head coach Mike White, interested that Minnesota surrendered 42 points to an Ohio State team the Illini held to 10 points earlier in the season, thinks a new offensive attack against the Gophers may be what Illinois (2-4-1, 1-2-1) needs to get back into the turbulent Big 10 race.

White said early this week that Illinois fans may see their team use the pass full-time to set up the run—the Illini play of old—rather than continue to run the ball with the same unhealthy results of recent weeks.

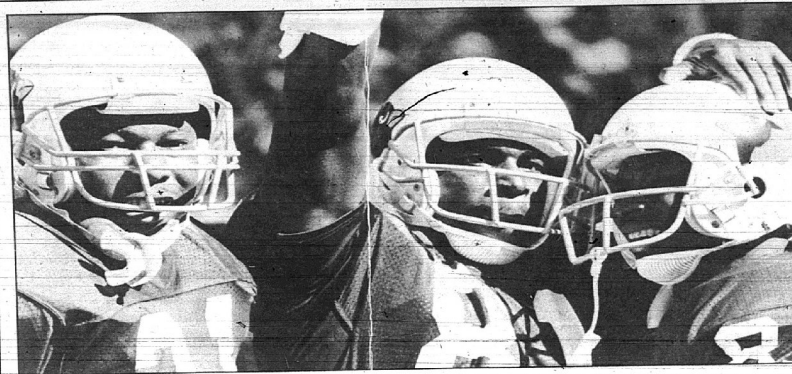

"Our offensive philosophy is changing back to the philosophy that most people recognize," White said. "Obviously, against Michigan State that's an intelligent thing to do. They're sixth in the nation in rushing defense."

"The philosophy has been changing as the year has gone on. It's something that I'm comfortable with and something we've basically been noted for in the past—the pass to set up the run. At the start of the year, to complement the defense we wanted to run the ball to set the pass. Well, we all know how that worked."

It may come down to the Illinois defense against the Gophers offense and their flamboyant quarterback Ricky Foggie, one of the finest Division I rushing quarterbacks. Minnesota leads the Big 10 in total offense and rushing offense. Foggie averages 75 yards per game rushing.

For the second consecutive week, Illinois enters the game with a nationally recognized defensive star.

Marty Gardner, a redshirted freshman nose tackle from Indianapolis, earlier in the week was named the Midwest Defensive Player of the Week by the Associated Press and the Big 10 Defensive Player of the Week by United Press International. Gardner had 10 solo tackles against Michigan State including five tackles for losses and two quarterback sacks.

Big Red offensive threats, from left, Earl Ferrel, Roy Green and Don Holmes, are looking forward to coming back to Busch Stadium, where the team is 2-0 this season.

Home stand is 'key' for Big Red

Taking on the importance of a late-season baseball home stand, beginning Sunday at noon the football Cardinals will host three straight home games, which head coach Gene Stallings is calling "a key to the season."

After a disappointing 30-7 drubbing last Sunday at the hands of the New York Giants, the Cardinals (2-4) are looking for the comforts of home to help turn their season around.

"I'm looking forward to playing back home," Stallings said. "We've played three games in St. Louis (this season including one preseason game) and won them all, and I'm looking forward to coming back."

First on the list this Sunday are the Philadelphia Eagles and head coach Buddy Ryan, fresh off a 37-20 win over the Dallas Cowboys. The Eagles (2-4), are trying to rebound from a disastrous 0-3 showing during the players' strike—a fact not lost on Stallings.

"They (Eagles) played pretty tough before the strike... they played Washington tough and they beat New Orleans pretty well," Stallings said. "Then they got to the middle of the season and lost some ballgames during the strike, but they came back and beat the Cowboys pretty well."

"They're playing with some emotion and I think it'll be a good ballgame... now I thought last week would be a good ballgame, also," he said.

The effects of the strike were different for each team, but Stallings doesn't think the Cardinals' 1-2 showing during the strike will ruin the team, and nor will the veterans' sluggish return last week.

"There are a lot of people in basically the same situation that we're in (because of the strike)," he said, "but we've got to start winning some games. We're not out of it. These next three games are awful important to us, plus we play them here at home. Three weeks from now the picture will begin to take shape."

Shaping up as Sunday's key matchup will be the Eagles' tough defensive front, led by Pro Bowl end Reggie White, and the Cardinals' offensive line, which is trying not only to wake up the Big Red running game, but also provide protection for quarterback Neil Lomax, who personally met almost every Giants' defender last Sunday.

"Offensively, we've just got to move the ball on the ground better than we've done the past couple of weeks," Stallings said. "We may make some changes (on the offensive line). We're sitting back there with good runners, our offensive line can block, (but) we're not making any yardage on the ground. So, if we don't improve in those areas, you know we're going to have a tough time."

Making things even tougher will be a stubborn

Eagles pass rush, headed by White, who was in on two sacks last week. Joining White are tackles Ken Clarke and rookie Jerome Brown and end Clyde Simmons.

"Their (the Cardinals) passing game is good, hopefully we'll be ready for it," Ryan said. "If Lomax gets time to throw, we'll be chasing him all day."

"The Eagles have the personnel to really pressure the quarterback," Stallings said, who watched Lomax get sacked five times by the Giants. "We expect the Eagles to be very physical and aggressive."

"In order for Neil to have good days most of the time, we've got to protect him, we've got to give him time," he said. "We've got receivers who can catch and he can throw it. But he can't throw it with people right up in his face all the time."

Stallings particularly is concerned about the Eagles' 48 defense—Ryan's brainchild when he was defensive coordinator two years ago for the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears.

"They sort of fall on the 46 scheme, where they do a few things differently... like what we used to call the eight-man front, with three back," Stallings said. "That gives (the Big Red) a little more problem with trying to establish the running game."

Bold Tigers see red in No. 2 Cornhuskers

"Be bold... wear gold!" That's been the battle cry this week on the University of Missouri campus in reference to Saturday's football game between the Tigers and Nebraska. But a sea of red will fill the ends of Faurot Field, as Cornhuskers fans invade Columbia.

Getting tickets to a Cornhuskers' game is sometimes easier for Nebraska fans, on the road at Missouri, Colorado or Kansas than back in Lincoln. A crowd of 52,000 to 55,000 is expected for Saturday's game. Nebraska will bring along at least 8,000 fans. And this season, as usual, Cornhuskers fans have plenty to cheer about.

Nebraska (7-0) dismantled Kansas State last Saturday at home 56-3 with the Wildcats only points coming off a Nebraska turnover. Steve Taylor passed for one touchdown and ran for another and Tyrese Knox rushed for 100 yards.

"Kansas State tried to jam the line and we scored on long plays," said Nebraska head coach Tom Osborne, who has the most wins, 79, among college coaches in the 1980s.

The Cornhuskers are ranked No. 2 in the nation by the United Press International and the Associated
